Save the date for Cups & Cakes : your bi-weekly scientific get together

Every other Monday from 10:00 to 11:00 am, RIS4CIVIS invites CIVIS researchers to join a one-hour-long seminar comprised of a 40-minute presentation of current research work and a 20-minute open discussion.

On 10th May 10-11 am, join the very first Cups & Cakes meeting "Shedding light on developing cortical circuits" hosted by Rosa Cossart, INMED (INSERM U1249), Aix-Marseille Université, Turing Center for Living Systems.

And save the date for the two following meetings :

- 17 May Cups & Cakes 2: SoilSkin-La Piel Viva del Suelo hosted by Nagore García Medina and André Mira (UAM) and the spanish National Museum of Natural Science

- 31 May Cups & Cakes 3: Research Horizons in Geo-Biosphere Interactions hosted by Todd Ehlers (TU)

You are kindly invited to disseminate this information

Glasgow - Disciplinary meetings call for contact

The University of Glasgow is proposing 2 disciplinary meetings in order to start collaboration with counterparts within CIVIS in two different fields : Biomolecular Science and Education.

The disciplinary meeting in Biomolecular Science would take place in September, academics interested should write to William Cushley (Academic coordinator for CIVIS at BS/UG) and Celine Reynaud (International Experiences Manager for CIVIS at UG) :

william.cushley@glasgow.ac.uk

Celine.Reynaud@glasgow.ac.uk

The disciplinary meeting in Education would take place in October, academics interested should write to Julie McAdam (Academic coordinator for CIVIS at SE/UG) and Celine Reynaud (International Experiences Manager for CIVIS at UG):

julie.e.mcadam@glasgow.ac.uk

Celine.Reynaud@glasgow.ac.uk

All PM are kindly invited to forward this invitation to the relevant contacts in their universities.
